Dear Dr. Stojkovic,

I am writing this letter in support of your fight for humanity. I whole-heartedly support and endorse your continued efforts as a physician and steward of compassionate health.

Dr. Stojkovic, as you know, to preserve humanity will require that we separate ourselves from scientific Directed Evolution and Experimental Evolution. Directed Evolution is a synthetic process that harnesses the power of selection to evolve molecules, typically proteins or nucleic acids, from large, stochastically permuted pools or combinatorial libraries, to have desired properties. These libraries contain generations of variants of biological entities of interest, to change all biological life on earth from carbon-based to silicon-based life-forms. Experimental Evolution involves the various iterations and environmental inserts added to proteins, DNA, and RNA changing their composition and expression to produce certain standards for the "New Humans."

Your fight for COVID-19 vaccine freedom of choice is commendable. You completely share my views regarding just how COVID-19 vaccine is dangerous for our body and soul. It is critical that each person knows that the edits made to their body with these new technologies distance them, changing them from being human. Even the slightest variation can result in spiritual detriments to the body and soul. These edits cannot be reversed - they are permanent.

I concur with your views on wearing a mask (especially children wearing a mask while at school) in that it could do a harm to our health. As you know, the goal of this mask mandate is to push the post-human agenda, compliance, and in the eyes of the current agenda, to pay reparations for damaging the planet.

You are a true doctor, markedly contrasting many physicians, who only do what they are told, forsaking beneficial patient care. Thank you for sticking to your medical ethic principles to "first do no harm" and for medical freedom protecting health for babies, children, and adults.

Dr. Stojkovic, I greatly admire your courageous stance as you fight for COVID-19 vaccine freedom of choice and your stand against destructive mask-wearing mandates.

Your medical ethics are impressive in these days in which the preservation of human life is not valued. You are a luminary in the medical profession and should be highly treasured. Your compassion to alleviate human suffering is very admirable.

As you know, Dr. Stojkovic, we are in a war against an invisible enemy. We confront a novel pathogen with questionable composition and vacillating characteristics. Spanning all human history, this is the first of its kind within the new phylogenetic clade system. The very building blocks of creation are being modified and repurposed. Certain sectors stand to gain financially. All the while, protective health policies are being edited into agents of experimentation and death.

I stand with you, as a researcher and news anchor to clearly share the truth with all humility. If there is anything you need from my research pool, I am at your complete disposal.

God speed and safety to you Dr. Stojkovic,

Celeste Solum
